Privacy notice for pupils

Version of 12 November 2026 · Translation for information. The German version is binding.

What is this about?

There is a program on the internet that your school uses. It is called SchuleVernetzt. Your teachers use it to keep the class register and to enter grades, for example. Your parents can use it to tell the school that you are sick.

Your school is responsible for this. A company called SavePaperwork from Augsburg provides the program. It may only do with your data what the school tells it to do.

What is stored about you?

- Your first name, your last name and your class.
- Whether you were in class, were absent or were late.
- Entries in the class register, for example praise or homework you forgot.
- Your grades and your report card.
- Sick notes that your parents send. Sometimes also a note from the doctor.

Your birthday, your address and photos of you are not stored. You do not have your own account in SchuleVernetzt. With the class link, you only see the timetable, substitutions and homework. You see no names.

Who sees this?

Only people at your school who need it for their work: your teachers, your class teacher, the school office and the school leadership. Your parents see your sick notes, but not the class register. Nobody gets your data for advertising.

For how long?

There is a time limit for each kind of data. After that, the data is deleted. Sick notes and the class register are deleted after one year or more. The school must keep a copy of your final report card for a very long time. That way, you can still prove later what it said. When you open the pages, the company whose computers SchuleVernetzt runs on stores your device's internet address (IP address) for up to 90 days. This helps to find faults and fend off attacks.

What are you allowed to do?

You may ask what is stored about you. You may ask for wrong information to be corrected. To do this, ask your class teacher or the school leadership. You can bring your parents along if you like. If you think something is not right, you can also complain to the data protection authority of your federal state.
